Dear Katie at The Big Bad Rescue Network,

I am writing to you as one of the veterinarians for the Wolf PAWS wolf-dog sanctuary. I am a board-certified zoological medicine veterinarian and faculty member at the University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine. We have served as the primary veterinarians for this program for over a decade. We provide both preventive medical care and emergency medical care. Jennifer Ackley, Director of Wolf PAWS, prioritizes the well-being of the animals and operates with integrity. I am happy to confirm that The Wolf PAWS program provides healthy environments for wolf-dogs and Jennifer and her staff/volunteers are always organized and on top of the well-being of the animals.

Sincerely,

Julie Sheldon, DVM, MS, DACZM
Clinical Assistant Professor of Zoological Medicine
